Caravan of Hope

Trinity is undertaking a large ministry this summer as we hear Jesus' call to love and serve those in need. We already do this in many ways every month. But now we're undertaking to do a large ministry called the Caravan of Hope.

We'll feed 5,000 people on September 8th and 9th. We'll do so in the spirit of Jesus who fed 5,000 people on the side of a hill in Galilee long ago. And we'll do it because Jesus did it, and he asks us to be like him and to do what he did.

Our ministry is unfolding. A leadership team of 20 people are in place. Team coordinators are Jane DeWitt and Frank Procaccini. Another 120 people have already signed up to help. And enthusiasm is growing as we begin determining HOW we'll do this.

In summary, on the 8th and 9th, a caravan of vehicles will leave Trinity with 5,000 boxed meals. They'll go where people in need are, and we're now making contacts with other churches and organizations who serve in hunger ministry. I envision about 50 vehicles will go out near and far to towns and cities to deliver these meals.

If you'd like to participate or contribute call, the church office at 908-852-3020 or email Kari Anzel at kanzel@catchthespirit.org.

Then I hope you'll join us in a great and joyful celebration on Sunday evening, September 9th at 6 p.m. when we'll gather for music, stories, pictures and prayers.

The Church of Jesus Christ is meant to be a beacon of hope to the world.

This is just ONE way that we'll do that. I hope you'll join in this important ministry.

Blessings and peace,

Frank

Confirmation Joy

On June 3rd, Trinity confirmed 25 youth into the Christian faith and membership of the church. The students had been in class for nine months, had met in small groups weekly, taken three field trips, and each participated in at least one mission experience. We're grateful to John and Jennifer Forestiere and the entire confirmation team for its excellent and faithful leading of the class. John and Jen are stepping away from this ministry after three great years of service. Stepping up as lead teacher for next year is Jennifer Caldwell, along with a team of co-leaders and small group leaders.

For details about next year's confirmation class, call the church office. The first class is on Sunday, September 9th.

July 11th is National Cheer-Up-The-Lonely Day

That should be every day!

Small groups begin again in September!
Signups start the weekend of September 1st & 2nd
Sign up in Starr Hall or online at www.catchthespirit.org

We're very excited about this year's offerings. Here are some of the highlights:

- ❖ Close to 50 small groups this fall!
- ❖ 14 new groups!
- ❖ Including seven Bible studies!
- ❖ DivorceCare returns!
- ❖ GriefShare returns!
- ❖ Two book groups!
- ❖ Contemplative Creators continues!
- ❖ Weekly small groups for our students!

Whether you're new to small groups or a veteran, you'll want to take a look at all these opportunities that are available to you. You don't have to be a Trinity member to participate and you can bring a friend!

Check your mailbox for the 2018 Small Group Offerings Booklet. In addition to all our small groups and educational offerings, you'll find commentary from people in the congregation about their small group experiences. If you have any questions about a small group, please contact Pastor Deb at 908-852-3020, ext. 17 or ddevos@catchthespirit.org.

There will be a small group offered in July: I Can Only Imagine, beginning on the 25th for four weeks. Check the website for information.

Thrift Shop News

Maureen Storey

Summer is here...YAY! Time to play "Did You Know?"

Did you know...the Thrift Shop is open all summer? Many thrift and consignment stores take a summer break and close, but we stay open with the AC on and loads of new treasures arriving daily.

Did you know...that the Thrift Shop has LOTS of books? Good reading abounds! For your summer reading pleasure we have fiction, non-fiction, history, art, game and puzzle books, spiritual, self-help, how-to, biographies and more. A bag of books, yes, a BAG, is only $2! And don't forget the kids' books. Everything from board books (for your favorite chewer) to chapter books. And for those who love to experiment in the kitchen – cookbooks – only $1 each! We have CDs and DVDs, too! Come in, stock up, and get your summer started.

Did you know...that lots of our volunteers vacation over the summer? Got some time? Would you like to meet some great folks, laugh a lot, do a good turn for others? Contact us and find out about helping out for a few hours a week and see what happens in that cute little shop on Main Street or inside the walls of the big, mysterious Trinity Mission Barn.

Did you know...that the Thrift Shops have special donation jars on their counters for that change that people decide they don't want? This really adds up! So far this year the Thrift has given $100 donations to Midnight Run, B1 Fast, Haiti and Safe Harbor. We look forward to sharing the generosity of our customers with more missions and ministries this year!

Did you know...that in July, the Christmas Closet reopens for "Christmas in July"? Keep your eyes peeled for notices, lots of great Christmas items are piling up for our reopening. Meanwhile, check out what's in the Garden Room (off the back of the Furniture Gallery) for summer outdoor living and playing.

Did you know...that around mid-August, back-to-school items (eek) will appear to get your younger ones back to school for a fraction of the cost of regular retail. Book bags, lunch bags, clothing, jackets, pens and pencils, crayons, paint, binders, papers...yup...we've got lots!

Did you know...that Trinity Thrift has a Facebook page? Yep, we post lots of pictures of our new treasures and fabulous finds. Check us out, "Like" us, and "Share" us at Trinity Thrift Shop. Coming soon will be our new ETSY online shop, where vintage and antique items, quirky finds and odd bits can be found. We'll keep you posted on our progress.

Did you know...that when you buy thrift you're participating in Creation Care? We work tirelessly to keep items out of the dump. "In case you missed it, fashion is the second most polluting industry in the world, surpassed only by petroleum. When you buy something old and previously loved, you're extending its lifespan and reducing its carbon footprint." (Emily Farra, Vogue) Reduce, reuse, recycle!

Have a happy, joyous, adventurous summer. Be kind all summer long!

UMM Matters

Bill Blaskopf

On June 9th, Mr. Joshua Toli of the Forks of the Delaware Boy Scout Council spoke on "The Future of Scouting." We also recognized one of the boys of Troop 416 who became an Eagle Scout this year. The scouts provided us with an Honor Guard for the meeting.

On Saturday, July 28th, we'll be able to bowl 10 a.m. – 12 noon at the Oakwood Bowling Lanes in Washington, N.J. The cost is $10, which includes the cost of a pair of shoes, if needed. This Saturday follows the week of VBS, so we hope to see many families attending. The registration form can be found in the church bulletin and online, or by contacting Bill Blaskopf at: bblaskopf@newarka.edu or 201-841-2284.

There will be no breakfasts in July, August or September. September 8th and 9th the Caravan of Hope will be taking place. It's hoped that as many members of UMM as possible will assist with the Caravan. We must all make an effort to help "Feed the 5,000." Our next breakfast will be Saturday, October 13th. We hope that everyone will be there. Please remember, UMM is not just for men. We invite all members of Trinity to attend. Among our goals is to provide a sense of community, a meaningful presentation and a fantastic breakfast.

FAQs about KidVenture

KidVenture is Trinity's Sunday morning experience for children four years old through the 5th grade. Instead of staying in one room for the entire hour, students rotate to stations, including Storytelling, Missions, Art, Science, Movement, Spiritual Practices and Music.

How does KidVenture work?

Each Sunday, students report to their grade-specific "homeroom" at 9:15 a.m. where they're met by the grade's Shepherds (adults and youth who are with the students throughout the morning). At 9:30, the Shepherds take the students to their rotation station for the day. After being at the station for about a half hour, the class returns to their homeroom where they wrap up the morning with their Shepherds and get ready to be dismissed to their parents.

Curriculum-wise, the year is divided into Bible-based study units that last approximately five weeks each. For example, the first unit scheduled for September/October is "David and Goliath". On the first week of the unit, all students remain in their homeroom for an overview of the unit with their Shepherds. For the next four weeks, classes rotate to some of these other stations: Art, Science, Movement, Missions/Music or Spiritual Practices. By visiting a different station for four weeks, students have the opportunity to experience the Bible story using a different multi-intelligence each week. Our two- and three-year-olds are part of the stations on an age-appropriate basis. They will primarily stay in their homeroom class where lessons and activities can be created especially for them.

How can I help with KidVenture?

Trinity is a congregation filled with people of many gifts and talents. We'd like you to be part of KidVenture by:

- Volunteering to help in one of the stations.
- Volunteering to be a Shepherd for one of the classes.

The Lord's Pantry

Kellie Pennington

Well, summertime is in full swing! As the summer continues, we ask that you keep our ministry in mind. Many families need a little extra help over the next couple of months, especially families with children. Schools often supply breakfast and/or lunch for no cost or a reduced cost to families in need. When school is not in session, families need to cover these extra meals at home. Please consider making a donation to help these families. Items such as peanut butter and jelly, macaroni and cheese, soup, juice and canned dinners are great choices for school-age children.

Donations of foods and funds are always appreciated and put to good use. Donated food goes directly onto our shelves, and funds are used by our volunteer shoppers to purchase food items.

During the month of May we served 1,118 people (379 families): 339 children, 652 adults and 127 seniors.

Donate to the Pantry on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,
9 a.m. – 12 noon, or take donations to the church office when it's open.

Creation Care

Carol Kitchell

Summer is a great time to practice being good stewards of our environment and resources. Barbecues and picnics are in full swing. Try not using paper and plastic dishware and utensils and plastic straws. Hot, dry weather has us watering our gardens and potted plants. Gardening catalogues offer many ways to conserve water with dripper hoses, specialty water-retaining planters, rain barrels and chains, and more efficient sprinklers. Installing plants that are better able to survive drought conditions can make for beautiful gardens. Birdbaths of various types provide drinking and bathing water. Creating little muddy spots in gardens and putting out shallow dishes of water provides moisture for butterflies, other insects and little reptiles. Plant nectar-producing flowers for birds and bees – just be sure you buy organic plants. If you have lawn, leave an area un-mowed. Better yet, replace some of your lawn with specialty grass and wildflowers. Instructions for planting rain gardens are available on the internet. Pond kits and small water gardens provide places for frogs, dragonflies and water insects.

Remember that nighttime outdoor lighting interferes with both plant and animal processes and natural behavior. And turning down the AC a bit can help conserve resources and save you some money. Have a healthy, environmentally-friendly summer!

We welcome our new members who joined on June 10th.

Barbara and Charles Bell live in Hackettstown and have an adult son, Charles. Barbara is a retired nurse and enjoys volunteering, reading and going to the gym. Charles is a retired real estate agent and enjoys motorcycles. They joined by Letter of Transfer from the First Presbyterian Church in Hackettstown.

Lynn Coyle lives in Long Valley and has two children, Amanda and Ian. She's a director of music therapy/harpist, and enjoys reading, hiking and gardening. Lynn joined by Re-Affirmation of Faith.

Colleen and Dave Jones live in Long Valley and have three children, Reese (10), Dean (7) and Lena (5). Both Colleen and Dave are teachers at the Washington School in Long Valley. Dave joined by Profession of Faith and Colleen joined by Re-Affirmation of Faith.

Francesca and Stephen Szabo live in Hackettstown. Fran is an early intervention therapist at Progressive Steps in Morris County, and she enjoys reading, gardening and decorating (DIY). Steve is a consumer relations specialist at Reckih Benkiser in Parsippany, and enjoys golf, woodworking, cigars/wine and drums. They joined by Re-Affirmation of Faith.

Make a Lasting Difference

You can make a lasting difference by remembering Trinity Church in your last will and testament. Many have done this over the years and have blessed the church with funds for significant ministries. Have you considered this step of faith? For more information, contact Dr. Frank Fowler.

Thank You

I would like to thank my Trinity Family for all of the love and support through my surgery and subsequent injury. The prayers, the cards, the calls, the texts, the meals and the visits are all so appreciated more than you could know. I would not have had the courage or the strength to get through this long ordeal without all of you and, of course, without my daughter Kristi who has been my nurse and my rock. Thank you seems so inadequate to convey how I feel, but please know it is sincere and truly heartfelt. Faith and love of God is truly an amazing force, but the love and support of a church community/family is irreplaceable and priceless! I am so blessed to have all of you in my life.

Thank you, thank you, thank you! Arlene McCollum

KidVenture Shepherd Meetings

The View from Here

God in a box. Canned Jesus. Do you ever find yourself packaging up possibility when it comes to thinking about God and faith? I do. We can sometimes come at belief in a way that preconceives the outcomes, defines hope and potentiality down into a nice, neat, uninspiring bundle of what we think we know.

I think it was Madeleine L'Engle who said she didn't want a god she could comprehend completely, a god who could be fathomed by humans like we try to figure everything else out. Filing cabinet faith I call it. Sort it all out into nice, neat categories with labels and stuff it into the hanging folders.

I think this applies to missions and ministries, too, those things we think we're called to do in the service of God to help others or grow the faith. A lot of it is pretty clear cut. People's homes are destroyed, assistance agencies are slow to move or don't come through, and faith-based groups step in and start making it happen – like UMC's Future with Hope campaign. Or people die from malaria and we provide bed nets, medicine, prevention and care training, and local resources.

There are other ministries the outcome of which are not so clear cut. I've sat with groups as we talked about what our church does, pros and cons come into the discussion, and inevitably the talk comes around to how we view what we do and why we do it. In our self-examination, we've talked about patting ourselves on the back for our do-gooding over what we perceive as valuable ministries, and we can question what difference a particular ministry would make. Personally, for example, I think it's a swell idea to make holiday food baskets, but those are two days out of the year. You can wonder what's the good of such a limited undertaking. But then I remember what it felt like to be hungry at a time in my life. I had a job, but I could only spend just so much on food and when it ran out by the end of the week, I found myself wishing someone would invite me over for dinner. On a holiday, it can feel pretty awful when you have no one, and getting a basket might let you know someone somewhere gives two hoots about you.

So I find myself wondering about the Caravan of Hope. Why do something like this? In some way it doesn't make sense to me and I can't really see much of a practical outcome. But here's the thing. I'm thinking I'm making it into the god in a box, packaged Jesus thing. How do we know what God has in mind? How can we be sure of what outcomes, what door-openings, what little ray of hope can come into peoples' lives as a result of what we do? What kind of positive snowball or domino effect can begin with 5,000 sandwich boxes? I don't know, but the world is a pretty dark place and who knows what a little bread and fish concession stand set up outside the gates of hell might do in the big scheme of things? Possibility.

Be well and God bless, Carol
